

Mariners are advised the unlit beacon Eilean Buidhe is currently off station as of 10th March 2026. Mariners are advised that due to the beacons movement it should not be used for position fixing.

Due to the weather conditions over the next 3 to 7 days it may not be possible to attend the beacon until the weather moderates as its location is only accessible by vessel at certain tide times.

